LOVE YOUR HOME AGAIN

Decorating, Staging & Color Consultation

This homeowner loves folk art and has a vast collection of decorative folk art items. The problem was that she could never achieve that “magazine look” that she craved.

9:00am - Dining Room Before Makeover

Undersized accessories and too many pieces made the room feel “undone” and cramped.

12:00pm - Dining Room After Makeover

By moving the bookcase out and taking down the heavy, dated draperies, we instantly created more space with an open feeling. Using decorative fall items, many of which the homeowner already had, we created a warm, inviting place for entertaining.

This homeowner wanted a peaceful retreat from the commotion of the home. Using her existing bedding and furniture, we created an oasis right in her own room.

10:00am - Bedroom Before Makeover

The mattress on the floor and random accessories give this master bedroom a college dorm feel.

1:00pm - Bedroom After Makeover

Fortunately, the home owner had already ordered this bed, making a beautiful focal point of the room. By tidying up and accessorizing the side tables with items found in other areas of the home, and adding a rug, we created a peaceful space the homeowners could really relax in.
